NEW DUTCH DANCE TALENT AT WINTER MUSIC CONFERENCE

JUNKIE XL AND DJ TIËSTO ALSO PERFORMING

A large number of Dutch DJ's will be performing at this year's Winter Music Conference, 18 – 22 March in Miami. While some of Holland's most prolific dance and electronic talent will be behind the wheels at the nighttime shows, a large contingent of Dutch record companies and labels will be present in Miami to license material and support the shows of the Dutch DJs performing. With the present worldwide success of Dutch dance and electronic material, new Dutch dance music is held in high regard by some of the worlds most profitable labels and record companies. The United States in particular have proved receptive to new Dutch dance material over recent years.

DJ Tiësto has been one of the main catalysts of the trend: he is now officially labelled as the 'Best DJ In The World' and enjoying huge success from the UK to US and back, Tiësto is scheduled to perform at the Ultra 5 Music Festival in Bayfront Park, downtown Miami. Other prolific DJ's/producers performing at Winter Music Conference are Sander Kleinenberg (Hooj) and Lemon8 (Basic Beat). Also, last year's #1 electronic producer Junkie XL (AKA Tom Holkenborg) is to perform live at the Ultra 5 Music Festival: under a less emotionally charged moniker JXL, Junkie remixed Elvis Presley's A Little Less Conversation and it rose to the number 1 spot in charts across the globe. His new album is due to be released later this year on Roadrunner.

However, the ultimate Dutch dance party at Miami is to take place in the Opium Garden club on Thursday 20 March. Spread over five intimate dance arenas, and packed with Holland's favourite musical vibes, this unique event is set to send shockwaves across the city. Performing artists include Marco V (ID&T), Michel de Hey (EC), Johan Gielen (ID&T), Lucien Foort (Melody Paradise), Rem (Silly Symphonies), Tom de Neef (United), Laidback Luke (United), Secret Cinema (MAW), Roog (Hardsoul), Montana (Black Hole), Erick E (Onestar), Brian S (Barkers), Cor Fijneman (Black Hole), Benny Rodriguez, Nick K (Tsunami), Don Diablo (Re-Fuse), Fausto, Johan Cyber (Cyber), Misja Helsloot (Gesture), Astrid (Q-Dance/ID&T), Marcella, Joost van Bellen (Speedfreak), Marnix, Bart Hendrix, Toni Bass, Jurgen (Digidance) and Javier Naviness, all supported by MCs Marxman and Miss Bunty and VJ's Vision Impossible and the Virtual MC.

GROWING NUMBER OF DUTCH BANDS ON THE GERMAN ROADS IN 2003

SUCCESSFUL MUSICXPORT.NL MEETING AT EUROSONIC & NOORDERSLAG FESTIVALS AND SEMINAR 2003

15 of the 29 MusicXport.nl 2003 selected bands (35007, Anouk, The Apers, Beef, Bettie Serveert, Caesar, Dreadlock Pussy, E-Life, Green Lizard, De Heideroosjes, Johan, Relax, Spoiler, The Spades and Zuco 103), performed at this years EuroSonic and Noorderslag festivals in Groningen, The Netherlands (January 9- 1 2003). Over thirty German festivals, agents, promoters, promotion offices and media were invited and present in Groningen, where they were introduced to the quality of the selected bands and acts and the various forms of support possible through the musicXport.nl program.

2003 starts in a promising way for the musicXport.nl bands and acts. German festivals, bookers and agents have confirmed interest in: Anouk, Kane, Sita, Within Temptation, Green Lizard, Johan, Caesar, Beef, Relax, Spoiler, Zuco 103, and Dreadlock Pussy. Six months ago seven out of the 29 acts had German representation, currently 22 acts have a German label plus a German booker and almost every month another MusicXport.nl artist hits the German roads... This summer a well known German festival with a capacity of 150.000 visitors will set-up a separate stage for Dutch talent only...

MusicXport.nl is a combined initiative of the Conamus foundation and the Dutch Rock & Pop Institute (NPI) to support Dutch music in Germany. The German music market is one of the biggest in the world and being to the Netherlands makes it easily accessible.

MusicXport.nl began in 2001 and supports the marketing and promotional campaigns of the selected Dutch artists in Germany.

For more information on all 29 Dutch acts to benefit from the musicXport.nl program in 2003 go to www.musicXport.nl

ETEP HAS STARTED

At the Noorderslag Weekend (January 9/10/11 2003) 30 European festivals, 24 European radio stations and a large number of international managers, European promoters and agents gathered in Groningen - The Netherlands, to discuss The European Exchange Program (ETEP). As the first pan-European initiative to support upcoming European talent, ETEP is supported by a number of important partners;

> EuroSonic/Noorderslag
(www.noorderslag.nl)

> Yourope the European Festival organisation with 31 members
(www.yourope.org)

> EBU the European Broadcasting Union is the largest professional association of national broadcasters in the world.
(www.ebu.ch)

> Network Europe
(www.networkeurope.net)

> IMMF
(www.immf.net)

This strong foundation provides the perfect opportunity to create a real network of partners that can provide European music with a big boost and an audience of millions.

HOW DOES ETEP WORK

Each festival joining ETEP confirms and guarantees at least one slot at their own festival for a band not from their own country. Festivals organisers make their choice from more than 140 bands and acts performing at the EuroSonic & Noorderslag Festivals.

ETEP is a project where a platform for talented European bands and acts will be created, consisting European festivals, radio stations, written and digital media and the bands and acts and their representatives (agents, managers, record companies).

A large number of bands and acts who played at the EuroSonic and Noorderslag festivals 2003 have been selected by the ETEP partners and will get the opportunity to play at various European festivals, with many shows to be supported by public radio stations and printed media who were all present at the Noorderslag Weekend.

For more information go to: www.etep.nl

You could argue that Sander Kleinenberg is for progressive what Tiësto is for trance. After seeing Westbam in 1989, Kleinenberg decided he wants to be a dj. After gigs in big German clubs and an album for a French major, Kleinenberg decides to start using his own name for productions and dj work in 1998. That same year his tracks cause a sensation in England, and gradually he becomes a household name. Not only as a dj in all big clubs and on Radio 1's Essential mix, but also as the producer of classic progressive tracks like My lexicon and Sacred.

Harry Lemon's first hit is Model8, which he records in 1993 when he's already an established dj. Over the next six years he tries to find his own style, which he finds only when he has built his own studio the Inner Sanctuary. His Groinshaker 12" in 2000 shows the way and the Inner Sanctuary sessions, appearing on vinyl from 2000, receive much praise all over the world. He's also more successful as a dj than ever. Last year Harry played at Miami beach to an ecstatic crowd, a performance he's sure to repeat again this year.

JUNKIE XL

Saturday March 22nd
> Bayfront park

Even in the States Junkie XL, or JXL as he's called when remixing, is a household name. Of course that all happened because of the Elvis-remix, but Tom Holkenborg, as he's known in real life, has done many successful projects before. As a producer he's known very well in industrial circles, both with his former band Nerve and producing and remixing bands like Fear Factory. The first incarnation of Junkie XL included former Urban Dance Squad rapper Rude Boy and had its roots in big beat. Now Holkenborg performs solo as Junkie XL. His last tracks have taken a turn towards progressive.

 TIËSTO

MARCH 19TH CLUB SPACE / MARCH 22ND BAYFRONT PARK

What can you say about the guy that was recently voted 'World's best dj' by DJ Magazine? We can list all the clubs he's played, but it would simply be a list of all the world's super clubs. As a matter of fact, super clubs are getting a bit too small for Tiësto: this spring he's going to do his first solo stadium performance in Holland, dj'ing for a solid eight hours straight. And he won't need chemicals for that: dance music's favorite son-in-law simply gets his energy from the music and the crowd responding to him. After playing his Inner City show in 1999, Dutch TV viewers could see the tears in his eyes from pure joy, playing to a crowd of several thousand for the first time.

Tiësto hasn't always been the big name dj. On the contrary. For years in the early 90's he was just another dj, going from small-town disco to small-town disco in Holland and Belgium. He picked up very early on trance, and in 1993 he was finally approached for a club trance mix cd. Forbidden Paradise was one of the first trance mix-cd's, and Tiësto's name began to rise as the music got more and more popular. His name was definitely made with the Magik series of mix-cd's, which showed off his ever-increasing skills. As his star was rising, he took matters into his own hands and started both a label and a record store. These days the Magik store is a source for the latest, hottest trance these days. The Black Hole label quickly established itself as a reliable source of quality trance, helped by the fact Tiësto releases all his material on his own label. Through the label other artists and dj's are following in his footsteps: from early on he's always been helpful to new talent, which is not too common among dj's. As a producer, Tiësto's melodic and dramatic trance has been received very well by audiences around the globe. His solo tracks, like the anthem Flight 643 have topped charts around the world and collaborations with other producers have been huge hits, most notably the Gouryella project with fellow trance superstar Ferry 'System F' Corsten. His remix of Delirium feat. Sarah McLachlan - Silence was the first house track ever broadcast on daytime radio in North America and was four weeks in the U.K. Top 10 chart. After winning just about every dance award in 2002, a crown was put on his career early this year by being voted the number 1 DJ in the world in DJ Magazine's Top 100. Recognition from the music business in his native Holland came the same month with the prestigious annual Popprijs. www.dj-tiesto.com
