

Amsterdam Dance Event announces second wave of DJs & artists for ADE 2024

Tuesday, 03 September 2024

Amsterdam Dance Event (ADE), the world's largest festival and business gathering for electronic music, today reveals the second wave of confirmed artists for ADE 2024. Among the newly released artists are Adam Beyer, Amelie Lens, Anyma, Charlotte de Witte, DJ Heartstring, DVS1, Eefje de Visser, Gene on Earth, Job Jobse, KI/KI, Korolova, Mama Snake, Mau P, Moodymann, and many others. ADE 2024 runs from October 16—20 and is the world's most extensive festival and conference for electronic music, spanning 1,000+ events and an expected 3,000+ artists.

Opening Specials and Unique Settings

The organisation has recently announced this year's series of standout ADE Opening Concerts, with Nick Verstand's brand new visual spectacle, Eefje de Visser with a unique performance at Van Gogh Museum, Greetje Bijma x Oceanic at Bimhuis, Metropole Orkest's tribute to J Dilla at Melkweg, and Lavinia Meijer x Nikki Hock at Zuiderkerk. Other highlights of the program so far include Tomorrowland presenting two Afterlife shows plus their own 20 year anniversary at Ziggo Dome, KI/KI returning to De Bajes - Amsterdam's former prison space - after last year's surprise back-to-back with Armin van Buuren, plus other special venues such as the Royal Tropical Institute, De Hollandsche Manege, and Stenen Hoofd.

A number of artists will also be making their appearance at the ADE Pro conference, including Martin Garrix, Mau P, Indira Paganotto, Ellen Allien, Chris Stussy, Sama' Abdulhadi, Sara Landry, and Miss Monique. They will discuss topics such as touring and live events, the club scenes in key territories, reinventing yourself as an artist, and more.
